

NURSERY CHILDREN VISIT THE CHURCHES

Made a Great Hit With Their Singing Before Sunday Schools.

The Salvation Army will be a success according to J. E. Watson, Jr., whose prediction was made in a tour of churches and Sunday schools yesterday in which twenty homesets tota were introduced and permitted to sing some songs. The success of the campaign will be due to church people and organizations, in the view of Mr. Watson, who regrets that Fairmont has not supported the organization as it should.

The tour of churches grew out of the arrangements made by Rev. J. E. Gordon, designated to represent churches and Sunday schools in the campaign by the Fairmont Ministerial Association. Rev. Gordon is the pastor of the Christian church and a wife, who takes hold of anything in a way that assures success.

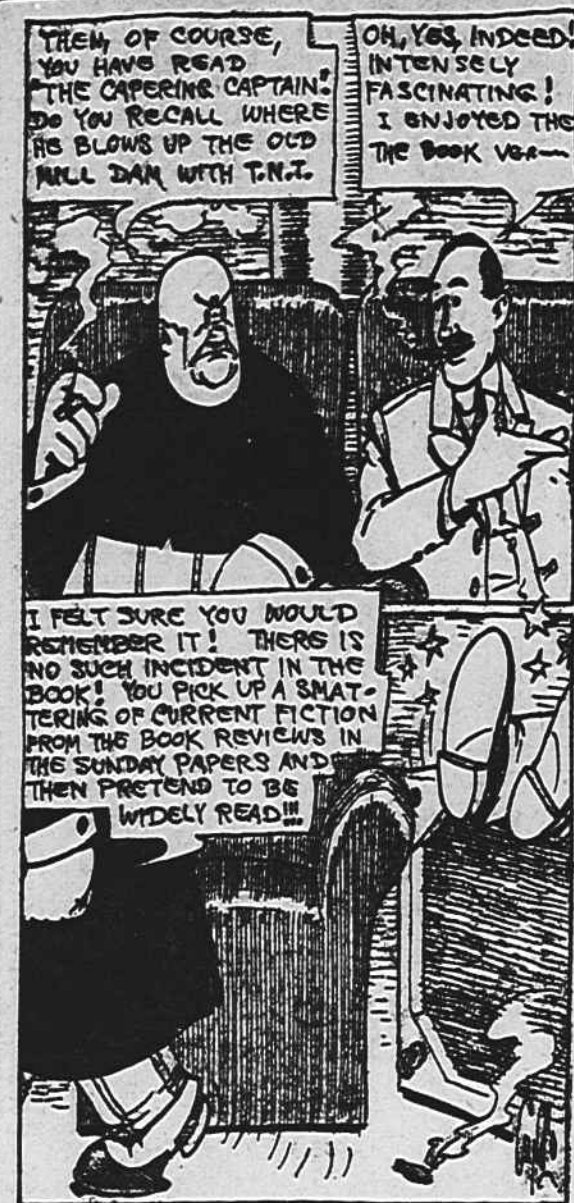

The tour of J. E. Watson, Jr., Bruce Morgan, C. E. Minor and Dr. H. L. Satterfield conveyed the party from one church to another. After the singing of the hymns there were talks by Capt. Ellis, Lieut. Jenkins and Mrs. Russell, who have had charge of the nursery recently, and by J. E. Watson, Jr., Dr. H. L. Satterfield, Rev. J. E. Gordon and E. B. Meredith, on behalf of the campaign. At the First Methodist church, Mrs. W. M. McCray Fletcher, chairman for the Fifth ward, was an additional speaker.

The tour included visits to the Men's Progressive Bible class of the First M. E. church, a visit to that Sunday school proper, where C. W. Evans introduced the speakers, a visit to the Peoples' Sunday school where Mayor W. W. Conaway was speaking, a visit to Loop Park where the Men's class of that Sunday school had adjourned for its meeting, a visit to the Christian church, the Grace Lutheran church and St. Peter's Catholic church. The services were over at the latter church which should have been held earlier. So a visit was paid to the convent where Sister Genevieve and several other sisters heard the singing and talks of the Salvation Army officers. The warm interest manifested by Sister Genevieve was very gratifying to those in charge of the campaign. Her interest in the little tots and the good women who are handling them was touching. One little orphan at once made friends with Sister Genevieve. Another made such an impression on the tour that she is likely to have a home in Fairmont.

The matter of an advisory committee for the Salvation Army work in Fairmont was brought up at the meeting of the Men's Bible class of the Peoples' Temple at Loop Park, as Glenn P. Barnes, treasurer of the campaign, is a member of it. Mr. Barnes advocates such a committee. Some people favor the plan and others oppose it. Those who oppose fear that it will put red tape around Salvation Army activities and declare that the training of Salvation Army officers in them for such work better than it is possible for any local people to give.

RADFORD WOMEN REALLY ARE THRIFTY

What They Save on New Clothes They Put Into Securities.

What is probably the thrift record for this section of the United States has been made by the Woman's club of Radford, Virginia. Replies to questionnaires sent out recently to club women in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the Carolinas, who are taking an active part in the campaign to reduce unnecessary expenses and incidentally the H. C. L., show that the Radford club walks off with honors and the record of having invested in 21 Treasury Savings Certificates, with a maturity value of $100 each, 444 War Savings stamps and 67 Thrift stamps. The club has a membership of 40.

The Radford club has also the record for saving on clothes. Three new garments—a suit and two dresses—have graced the club meetings this spring, and the thrift chairman of the organization, Mrs. W. H. Painter, reports that all three have ancient and honorable thrift histories behind them. An "Old Clothes League" is now in process of formation, the report continues, so that all the citizens of Radford may become, as it were, extension members of the club in this phase of its activities.

Discussions and papers on thrift have been a part of every meeting of the club since January 1. A number of the members keep monthly accounts or budgets, and have found it possible by checking up carefully on their expenditures to increase their savings. Part of this money has been invested in government securities, and part of it in other ways.

Primrose Legend.
The primrose is an oracle in love affairs. Let youth or maid pull the flower, and, after cutting off the tops of the stems, lay it in a secret place. Let youth dream through the night of his sweetheart. Upon looking at it the next day, if he find the stems shot out to their former height, success will attend; if not, disappointment.

Really an Art.
To be bored and not show it, is one of the secrets of social success.—Boston Post.

No Let-Up In Its Torture.
